Thursday, November 19

Time	Activity
04:25	Leave Onederz by bicycle
05:00	Lock the bicycle near Angkor Wat's west main entrance
05:00	Ta Prohm Kel: brief visit to the small temple
05:15–06:30	Angkor Wat, sunrise (approx. 06:05), photography
06:30–08:00	Walk to Ta Prohm
08:00–09:45	Explore Ta Prohm in detail
09:45–10:45	Walk to Pre Rup
10:45–11:45	Explore Pre Rup
11:45–12:20	Walk to Srah Srang
12:20–13:15	Srah Srang, lunch and rest
13:15–14:30	Explore Banteay Kdei
14:30–16:30	Walk back to Angkor Wat's west main entrance
16:30	Cycle back to Onederz

Estimated walking distance	21–24 km
Cycling distance	14–18 km

The route length is still an estimate and depends on pedestrian access and the paths you choose.

Day's itinerary: Exploring the eastern temples.

Walking route: Angkor Wat West Entrance → Ta Prohm → Pre Rup → Srah Srang → Banteay Kdei → Angkor Wat West Entrance.

Friday, November 20

Time	Activity
04:25	Leave Onederz by bicycle
05:00–09:00	Angkor Wat: sunrise, galleries, towers, Bakan
09:00–09:45	Walk to the South Gate of Angkor Thom
09:45–10:15	South Gate and its bridge lined with statues
10:15–10:40	Walk to Bayon Temple
10:40–12:15	Explore Bayon in detail
12:15–13:00	Lunch and rest
13:00–15:30	Baphuon, Royal Palace, Phimeanakas, Terrace of the Elephants and the surrounding area
15:30–15:45	Find a place to watch the demonstration
16:00–17:30	Kun Lbokator, subject to confirmation of the schedule
17:30–18:30	Walk back to the bicycle
After 18:30	Cycle back, with lights

Estimated walking distance	16–19 km
Cycling distance	14–18 km

This includes thoroughly exploring Angkor Wat and a longer walk through the central area of Angkor Thom.

For Friday, the brisker pace should be on the two longer connecting stretches, not inside the temples. I have allocated four hours to Angkor Wat, an hour and a half to Bayon, and another two and a half hours to the Royal Palace area.

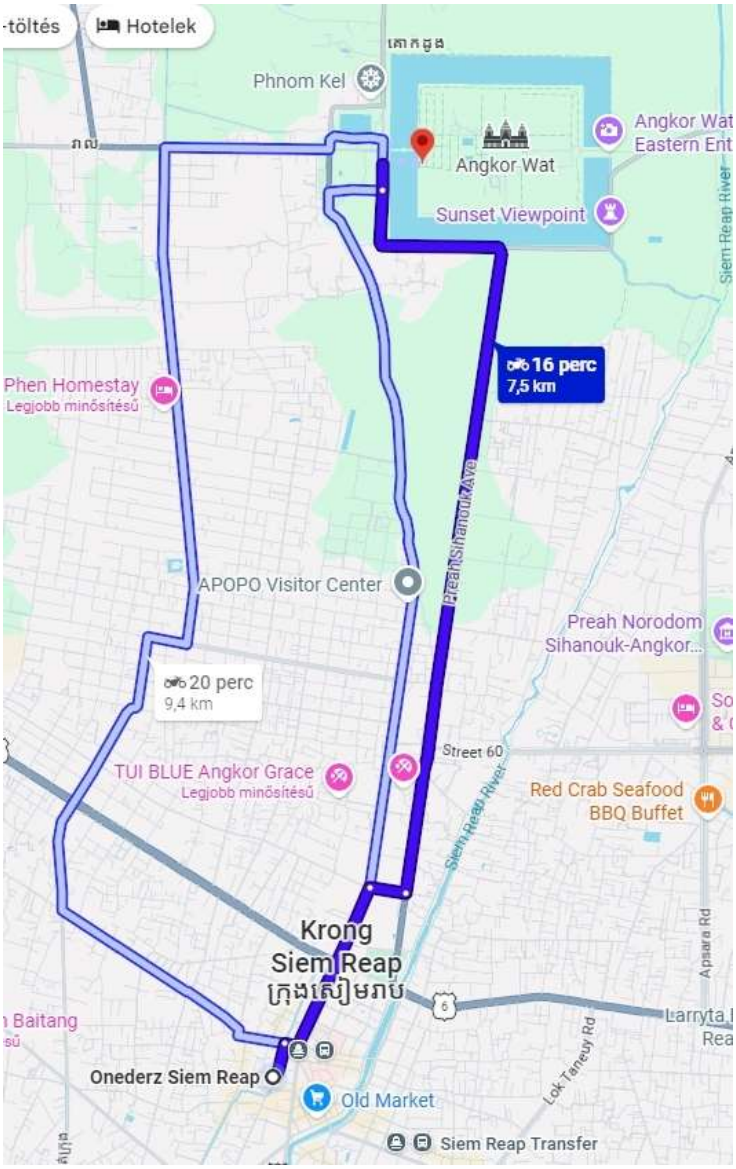

Important constraint for Friday evening

On November 20, sunset is at 17:34, and civil twilight ends at approximately 17:56. So you will probably be walking back to your bicycle in the dark, or as darkness is falling, after the demonstration.

Watching the entire demonstration and reaching the bicycle before 18:30 will only be comfortable if the performance ends at 17:00. If it runs until 17:30, the return journey will be tight.
